

Office of Disability Services Meeting

When you meet with the Office of Disability Services, you should explain the types of accommodations that you have found most useful in the past, such as preferential seating. Then, you should ask any questions that you may have.

Here are a list of questions to get you started:

1. What are the procedures for requesting accommodations?
2. What documentation is required to request accommodations?
3. Are there other students on campus with cochlear implants or hearing loss?
4. What types of accommodations are available? What's available for students with cochlear implants?
 - i. Trained tutors or notetakers.
 - ii. Assistive devices such as C-print, Personal FM system, CART, CapTel.
 - iii. Safety devices such as strobes for fire emergency or buddy system.
5. What should I do if a professor isn't implementing my accommodations?
